DEATH STRIKES TWICE AT SAME STREET ADDRESS

Hall, Automobile Victim and Mrs. Jowett Will Be Buried Same Day.

Death struck twice at 448 East Main street and two funerals will be held from there on Wednesday afternoon. At that number lives Charles W. Hall, whose father, Charles W. Hall, Sr., died at St. Vincent's hospital yesterday morning from injuries received on Saturday night when he was struck by an automobile at Stratford avenue and Pembroke street. In the house in the rear of that number Edward Hood resides. His aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Jowett, died this morning. Her funeral will be held at 2 o'clock on Wednesday and the Jowett obsequies will precede it by an hour.

Mr. Hall had been rooming at 198 Pembroke street, but his body has been removed to his son's home. Mr. Hall was a brother of George Hall, the dog catcher, and a molder by occupation. He was crossing the street when struck. Witnesses say the license number was 30219, which according to the Hartford registry belongs to A. J. Costello of Rockville, Conn. After hitting Mr. Hall the driver stopped his machine, looked at the injured man and then continued east to Stratford avenue, leaving him lying in the roadway.

The Rockville authorities are co-operating with the Bridgeport police in their inquiry into the identity of the driver.

The injured man's identity was not learned until yesterday when relatives called at the hospital where he had been removed in the ambulance.

Mr. Hall was born in Derby, England, 56 years ago. He is survived by a daughter, Miss Florence Emily Hall, two sons, George Edwin and Charles William Hall, his brother, George Hall, and a sister, Mrs. Thomas Daws of Hartford.

Mrs. Jowett was 65 years of age and had resided with her nephew, Mr. Hood, for a number of years.

Several members of the Canadian Parliament were among the passengers on the French liner Chicago which sailed from New York for Bordeaux.

FIND EVIDENCE OF PICKPOCKETS IN PUBLIC PLACE

Empty Wallets Cast Away
Mute Testimony of Prevalence of Thieves.

The prevalence of pickpockets plying their nefarious practices along the New Haven railroad and in Bridgeport is mutely testified to by the finding of many pocketbooks, stripped of their contents in the lavatories of local hotels and cafes.

In the Atlantic hotel, the stoppage of tank pipes last week is said to have resulted in the finding of 11 wallets and pocketbooks with a later find of five additional.

It is but one of the places said to have been reported to the police where the evidence of pocketpicking is said to have been found.

While few losses have been reported to the police this week, it is known that not many reports are made by the public, whose pockets have been deftly picked remaining under the belief that they have naturally lost their money.

The New Haven railroad, aware of a great number of travelling thieves, has posted extra details of detectives on trains from New Haven to New York.

Miss Marjorie Walsh and Ernest O'Brien
United in Marriage

In the presence of the immediate relatives and friends, Miss Marjorie Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Walsh of 100 Wells street became the bride of Ernest V. O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy O'Brien of 137 Black Rock avenue at 6:30 o'clock, Saturday morning, at St. Patrick's R. C. church. Rev. John C. Lynch, pastor, performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass.

Miss Mary Walsh, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and John Blake, was the groomsmen. Following the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride where a wedding breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien left later on their honeymoon, the destination of which they refused to divulge. On their return they will take up their residence on Cottage street. Both persons are widely known in the city.

Mr. O'Brien was formerly business agent of the Bricklayers', Masons' & Plasterers' union, and he enjoyed the respect of both the union members and the contractors, for his ability and likeable personality. Since resigning that position last summer he has engaged in contracting for himself in the firm of Martin & O'Brien and he has enjoyed success.

Mrs. O'Brien was formerly employed as a stenographer in the Connecticut National bank.

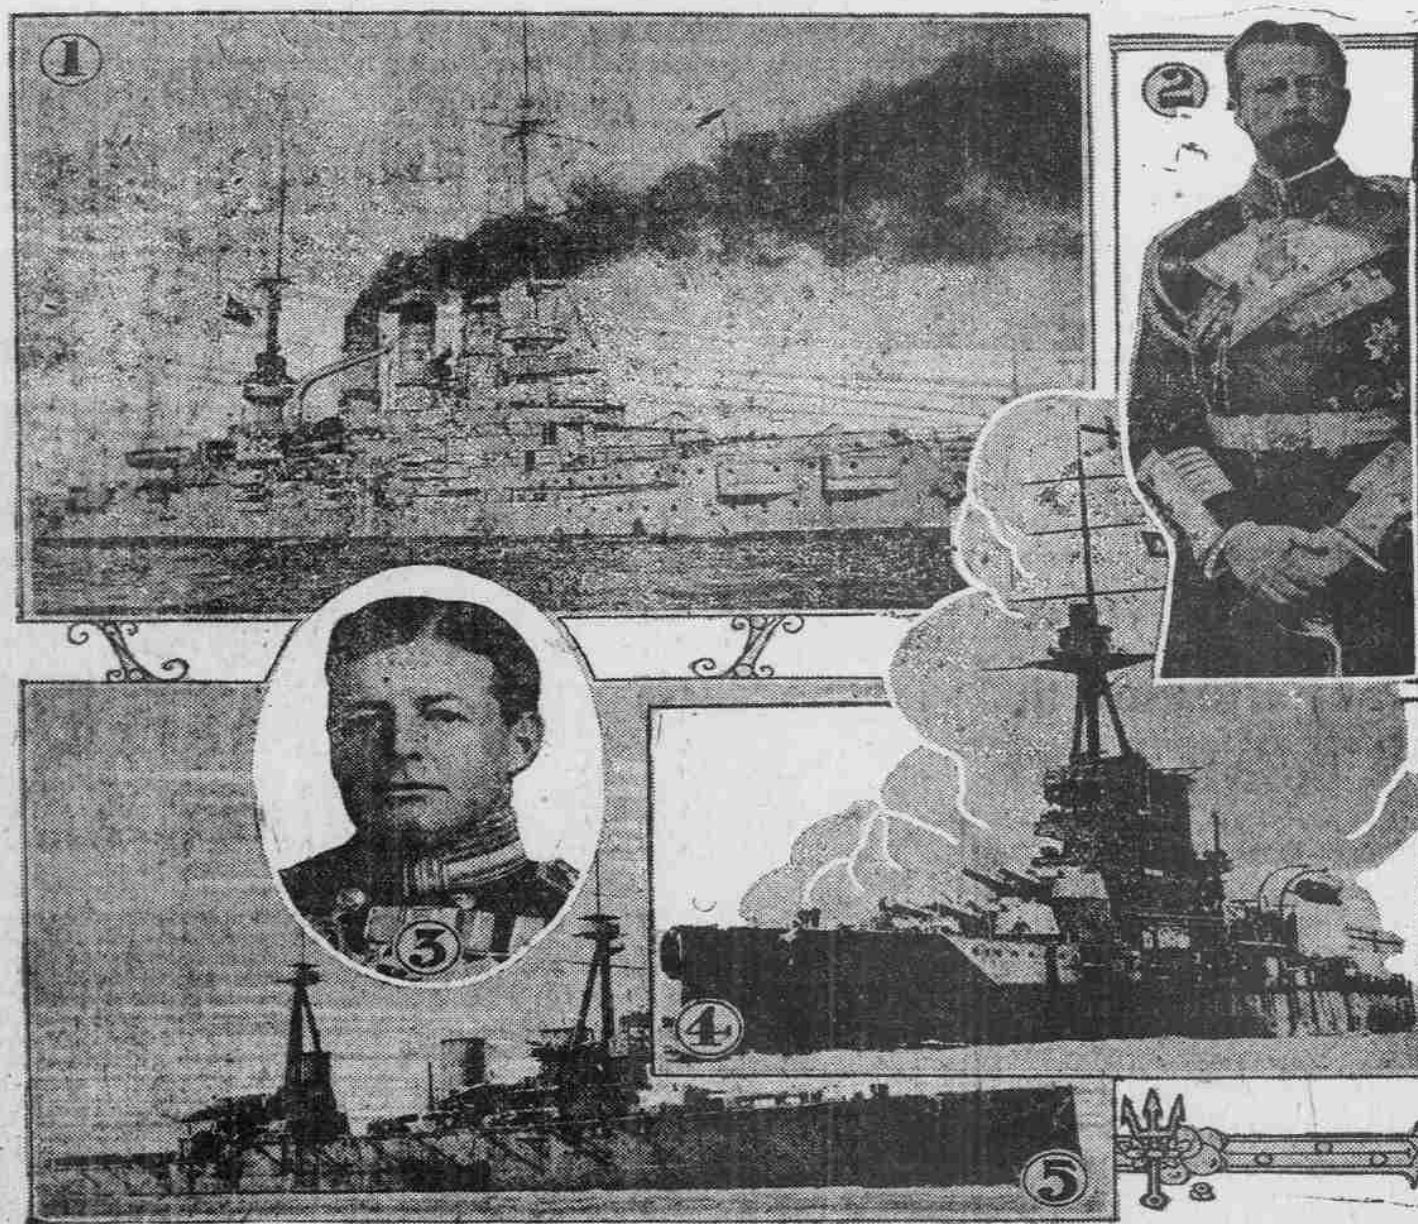

SCHINE WANTS FORECLOSURE

Harry Schine of this city has brought proceedings in the common pleas court asking for an order of foreclosure for property on Winter street, owned by Harret P. Wyant of Milford. It is claimed that the defendant gave a note for $500 November 1, 1915, mortgaging the Winter street property as security. The note is due and unpaid.

GREATEST NAVAL BATTLE EVER FOUGHT ENGAGED SOME OF WORLD'S BIGGEST SHIPS

The battle cruiser Invincible, which the British admit losing in the great North sea battle, was a vessel of 17,350 tons. She took part in the naval engagement off the Falkland Islands in December of 1914, in which the German Pacific squadron, which had made its way into the Atlantic after defeating a British squadron off the Chilean coast, was destroyed. The British dreadnaught Marlborough, said by the Germans to have been struck by a torpedo, was of the Iron Duke class. She was built at Devonport in 1914 and displaced 25,000 tons. The Marlborough was 620 feet long, 89 1-2 feet beam and 27 feet deep. The German battleship Pommern, lost in the fight, was a second line vessel, with a displacement of 12,997 tons. Her full complement of men and officers was 729. She was 398 feet long, with a depth of twenty-one feet. The ship was built in 1907 at a cost of $6,000,000. The British battle cruiser squadron is commanded by Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, in whom Americans may be said to be specially interested, because he is married to an American, the daughter of the late Marshall Field of Chicago. Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of Emperor William, is commander in chief of the German fleet, but was not in command at sea in the battle, that honor falling to Vice Admiral Scheer, commander of the high sea fleet. Stories of the battle say that the activity of the German fleet was due to the energetic demands of Emperor William to his brother and Admiral von Capelle, minister of the navy, on the emperor's recent visit to Wilhelmshaven. No. 1, the Pommern; No. 2, Prince Henry; No. 3, Admiral Beatty; No. 4, the Invincible; No. 5, the Marlborough. The British deny the loss of the Marlborough.

TWO WEDDINGS AND ANNIVERSARY IN WALZ FAMILY

Happy Events Crowding
Each Other in Lives of Hotel Owner and Wife.

Jacob Walz, proprietor of the Lyric hotel in Main street, and his wife should be a happy couple. They are, because they have responded heartily within the last few weeks to many congratulations by a host of friends.

Their happiness is three-fold and seems to be of a progressive nature for it was not until the celebration of their silver wedding in the latter part of May that the engagement of Anna Pauline Walz was announced to Gustave Klein of this city, and it will be at the wedding of this couple at St. Paul's church, when June 7, when the formal announcement of the engagement of another daughter, Carrie Lydia Walz, to Walter Eichen, foreman at the Cudahy Packing Co., will be made.

What additional joy will prevail at the wedding ceremony of the last named couple is a matter of much speculation upon the part of friends now aware of the increasing good fortune being showered upon the family.

The Walz-Klein marriage will be performed in St. Paul's church on Harriet street with a large reception following in Germania hall. Mr. Klein, who has lived in this city for many years, is a valued employee of the Sprague Meter Co.

HOWLAND'S

Entrances in Main Street, Fairfield Avenue, and Cannon Street.

Bridgeport, Conn.
Monday, June 5, 1916.

The Weather:—Showers this afternoon; fair tonight and Tuesday.

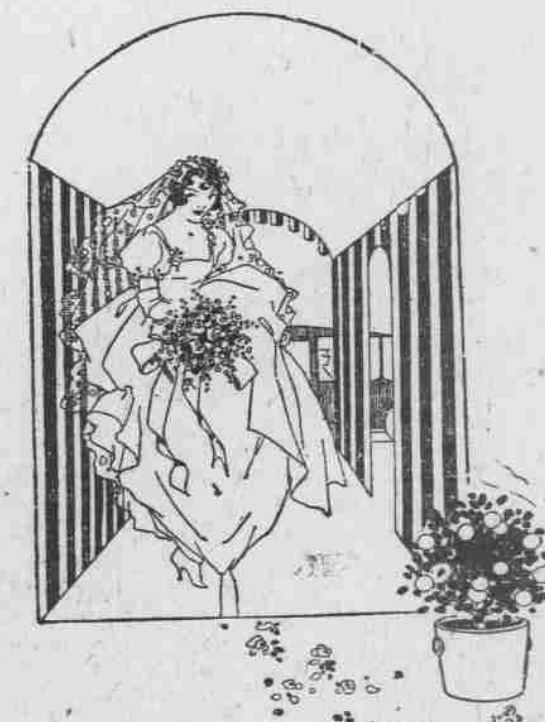

Unique dress-event.

Wednesday and Thursday we shall exhibit a fine collection of new dresses. They will be exhibited by young women; will be actually worn so one may see their grace and beauty as it actually is. These dresses are not for sale—instead, we take orders and make dresses exactly like them.

Also; some handsome dresses ready for wearing.

And sport suits and separate skirts.

And some splendid savings—that we shall tell you more about tomorrow!

The Brides' Month finds the store more-completely equipped for good service.

There is nothing missing from the list of needfuls or desirables.

When preparations for the bridal are under way, the store will quickly respond to every call. Outer and under apparel, footwear and headgear,—everything for the complete bridal appareling!

When the new home is being furnished, similar prompt and thorough service.

And bridal gifts of amazing variety and true value.

Bride of this June of 1916 is going to especially treasure her linens. They are real treasures—and she appreciates that fact. Shortage of them is real; and growing more noticeable. Yet the store offers choice from some beautiful patterns and sturdy qualities.

Aluminum is replacing silver as a favorite gift. Its scope ranges from cooking utensils to percolators and such. Aladdin, the new aluminum, is a bit ahead of all others—in quality and in the convenient way utensil is finished.

Every corner of the store holds something of interest and worth for the bride and for her friends. They are all at your immediate service. Will you avail yourself of them?

Clever suits for bathers—$5

For woman who really enjoys a swim—suit of knitted fabric!

It clings-closely to the figure; it allows freedom for the swimmer; it has none of the "slimpy" appearance of some fabrics!

Rich dark blues, with fancy trimming in plaid and check patterns,—$5.

Satin suits too at $5!

Deep black satin, edged with a bit of contrasting color.

Like the knitted suits, these are to be worn with bloomers or tights; some are equipped with these.

Other suits, for less, and some smart styles at more; prices range to $15.

Second floor.
